See you in Seoul!

2019

HANYANG INTERNATIONAL SUMMER SCHOOL
HANYANG UNIVERSITY

Hanyang University is the successor of DongA Polytechnic Institute, which was established in 1939 as the first engineering college in Korea. Today, Hanyang is home to more than 32,000 students in 24 colleges and 21 graduate schools. To continue its momentum of progress, Hanyang University has been striving to promote internationalization and consequently, over 1,000 courses instructed in English by about 200 foreign professors are offered every semester. Efforts such as these have allowed Hanyang to recruit more than 8,000 international students in total, while boosting relations with about 800 universities worldwide.

Established as 1st Engineering College in Korea

Elevated to Comprehensive University

1st International Outlook (THE Ranking)

2nd National University (Joongang Daily)
